

JIGYASA

Thirty students of class XII B visited the genomics lab of the CSIR where they interacted with scientists, who explained to them the working of various scientific equipment and explained their commercial applications